Letters of Evaluation

- VMCAS eLor's: Evaluations should be submitted through the VMCAS electronic Letters of reference (eLor). VMCAS requires a minimum of 3; maximum of 6. Any additional evaluations (after the 3-6 eLor's) can be sent through Cornell's electronic forms.
- Make sure to let your evaluators know the deadline these evaluations need to be submitted by (September 15, 2015 by 12:00 midnight EDT).
- Do not duplicate evaluations: It is important not to duplicate evaluations, so if you have an evaluator use the VMCAS eLor, then there is no need to have them do a Cornell form as well.

Animal/Veterinary/Biomedical Research Letters of Evaluations

- Cornell Supplemental Application Experiences: Beginning with the most recent, list up to 5 of your most significant veterinary, animal or biomedical research experiences on the Cornell Supplemental Application.
- Evaluations for experiences listed on Supplemental Application:
 - A letter of recommendation must be provided for each of these experiences listed on the Cornell Supplemental Application.
 - At least one of these experiences must be in veterinary medicine, with the accompanying letter written by the veterinarian with whom you worked most closely.
 - We ask for evaluations for those experiences you re-list on the Cornell Supplemental Application only (not the entire list on the VMCAS).
 - Multiple Evaluations for one experience: If you list an experience more than once because you will be providing multiple evaluation letters from that experience, take care that you do not duplicate the hours that you worked or volunteered. Instead, please estimate the total hours worked with each evaluator (for example: you worked a total of 500 hours at a practice, 300 with Evaluator A and 200

- VMCAS experiences: In addition to the detailed information about each experience listed on the Cornell Supplemental Application we also carefully review and take into account each of the experiences recorded on your VMCAS application.
- Re-applicant: If you are a re-applicant, VMCAS will not accept letters on file at Cornell. Cornell will use previously submitted letters upon your request, but again, VMCAS must receive 3 eLors for your application to be complete.

Academic Letter of Evaluation

- Minimally one evaluation from an academic advisor, faculty mentor, pre-med advisor or a professor familiar with your academic abilities.
- Committee letters are welcome. This letter may be one of the three you send through VMCAS eLor or it may be sent through Cornell's electronic evaluation process.
